

Bruce Laurie and Michael McDougall on guitar (early 1960s)

The Sea Foams

Keith: Yeh we had the guitar. We had a peg leg mate, call him Chung. We use to get a lend of his guitar you know to take it down there. Playing it all the time. We played at the School of Arts in South Grafton.

Bruce: Sea Foams we was called

Keith: Oh, we had a lovely group

Bruce: We had Michael on a tea box base there. Oh it was in the news, write up in the paper, the Daily Examiner, about it, bush band from Corindi.

Keith: Sea Foams was the name of our group

Bing: We had every blackfella on stage then, everyone wanted to play then

Keith: It was for a cripple girl that wanted to give her a leg, she wanted to get an artificial leg. Yeh she got her leg, she come down here. We done our job, we raised the money
